Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) OR THIRTY (30) DAYS, WHICHEVER IS LONGER, FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

Status

- 1) Responsive to communication(s) filed on 01 December 2003.
- 2a) This action is FINAL. 2b) This action is non-final.
- 3) Since this application is in condition for allowance except for formal matters, prosecution as to the merits is closed in accordance with the practice under Ex parte Quayle, 1935 C.D. 11, 453 O.G. 213.

DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

2. Claims 1 and 4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

In regards to claims 1 and 4, at pages 17 and 18, respectively, "wherein when a vehicle stop condition is not detected by the detecting means, the determining means does not determine whether or not the child restraint system is equipped..." is unclear.

Examiner suggests changing the claim to positively recite the limitation as to when the determining means may determine whether or not a child restraint system is equipped and then further recite when the determining means may not determine whether or not a child restraint system is equipped.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 1-14 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Japanese Reference 2002-178813A.

In regards to claims 1-14, JP2002-178813A, shows a seat (1) comprising:

a controller (25) for calculating a detection load value (S0) and for determining an occupant sitting on the vehicle seat (1) by comparing the detection load value (S0) and a predetermined threshold value (A);

a determining means (20) for determining whether or not a child restraint system is equipped on the vehicle seat (1) based on a variation of the detection load value (Paragraphs 32-35); and, a detecting means (See Figure 4, top element of controller (25)) for detecting whether or not the vehicle is stopped;

wherein the detecting means (See Figure 4, top element of controller (25)) detects the vehicle stop condition based on at least one of an ignition switch signal (See Figure 4, top element of controller (25));

wherein the determining means (20) determines whether or not the child restraint system is equipped on the vehicle seat (1) based on the variation of the detection load value (S0) from a maximum detection load value (SM) detected after a seatbelt (11) is fastened (Paragraph 41-46);

wherein the controller (25) is connected to an ignition switch (See Figure 4, top element of controller (25)) and a seatbelt switch (12a);

wherein when the child restraint system is determined not to be equipped on the vehicle seat (1), it is determined whether an occupant sitting on the seat is an adult or a child (Step 113; Paragraph 47);

wherein when the detection load value (S) is greater than the predetermined threshold value (A), it is determined that the occupant sitting on the seat (1) is an adult (Step 114);

wherein when the detection load value (S) is smaller than the predetermined threshold value (A), it is determined that the occupant sitting on the seat (1) is a child (Step 115; Paragraph 48).

Conclusion

3. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
